

Spanish A Level (Edexcel)

Why study this subject?

Would you like to take advantage of the many jobs available in the E.U. and around the world for people who speak different languages? Do you enjoy visiting other countries and exploring a different way of life? Would you like to continue your language study at University? Or do you simply want to be better qualified and more competitive in the world of work by speaking another major International Language?

Entry Requirements

Please see the entry requirements page on the school website.

Content

The main aim of the course is to teach you to communicate fluently about a wide range of general topic areas, as well as to explore the culture and civilisation of Spanish speaking countries. You will learn to express your opinions and discuss issues in the foreign language. You will be able to understand with ease the foreign language when spoken at normal speed, to speak it confidently yourself, to read it fluently and to write it both accurately and imaginatively.

You will also study a film and a novel in Spanish.

Assessment

Module 1      Listening, reading and translation into English

Module 2      Writing: translation into Spanish and two essays (one on a film and another on a novel)

Module 3      Speaking

Future courses and possible careers

Many students choose to continue their study of languages at university, as a degree course or part of another course, such as Business Studies, Law, Management or Accountancy.

In the last few years, a number of students have continued their language study at the University of Cambridge, Oxford and many other reputable universities in this country.

The ability to use languages is vital for our increasingly global economy where many of you will be employed in multi-national companies. A qualification in a language will certainly enhance your employment prospects in the 21st Century!
